PROJECTS

Gesture control gadget:

This innovative design enables users to control computer or laptop desktop functionalities through simple hand gestures, eliminating the need for conventional input devices like a mouse or keyboard. By incorporating ultrasonic sensors, the HC-05 Bluetooth module, and PyAutoGUI, the system efficiently exchanges data between the user and the computer, offering a seamless and immersive experience.

Line follower robot:

Line Following Robot is an autonomous mobile machine designed to follow a predefined path, typically a black line drawn on a contrasting surface. The robot employs sensors, often infrared (IR) sensors, to detect the line and adjust its movements accordingly.

Portfolio website:

My portfolio website showcases my professional projects and skills with a clean, user-friendly design, providing a comprehensive overview of my expertise to potential employers or clients.
